News and Comment.

The question is going the rounds, "What does a little chicken eat when it is too little to eat anything?" We don't know the answer, but what is more puzzling to us is what we are going to eat if things get much higher.

As long as the lamp holds out to burn the vilest sinner as well as the oldest may return. During a revival at Wilmore, a man professed religion who had spent 31 years in the service of the wicked one.

Men holding lower berths in a New Hampshire train declined with one accord to give up theirs to the President's daughter. This is no greater offense than not to give up for any other lady, and the incident is noted merely to show what hogs the Yankees are.

The Wall Street Journal says that railroad travel is safer than staying at home, because "the railways carry 75,000 passengers for each one injured and 2,750,000 for each one killed." This is the argument against steel cars, but it won't go. Even the small per centage of casualties must be cut down.

Mr. Watterson escaped just in time. Mrs. Pankhurst, the English virago suffragette, will land in New York on the 18th and be in Louisville on the 30th.

Webster City, Iowa, announces a free feast, at which 10,000 watermelons will be served. It is evidently a bid for an influx of the colored population.

News comes from Paris that hoop-skirts will be revived this winter. The present generation knows little of the hideous things, but we who are in the rear and yellow leaf remember how women resembled an inverted balloon with them on and that two could not walk abreast on an average pavement. A pretty woman looks pretty in most any kind of fashion, but from the hoop skirt woman good Lord deliver us!

A Washington dispatch says that Judge John W. Hughes, of Mercer, has been decided on as Collector for this district. He is a mighty good man and a sterling Democrat, but we won't believe the matter settled till the appointment is actually made.

Statistics show that one couple in every seven in Ohio seek divorce. This reminds us that we could never see what Ohio people marry each other for, when it is only the river that divides them from Kentucky.

An automatic fire stoker, it is said, will take the place of firemen on engines. What is most needed, however, is an automatic flagman, who will go far enough back to protect his train from the one following.

A Chicago salesman identified a mysterious corpse as that of his wife and on going home he found her there and well. Maybe he wasn't disappointed!

Harry Thaw asked the New Hampshire jailer to take him to church Sunday, but he wouldn't. Looks like the crafty murderer begins to realize that he must also do something to save him from the wrath to come.

An American woman was arrested at Berlin for throwing a bouquet of roses at Emperor William from her hotel window. Served her right for wasting so much sweetness on such an unappreciative creature.

A British scientist comes forward with the prediction that in less than 100 years the world will face an appalling problem due to a shortage of wheat. However, it will make little difference if the prediction of a certain American scientist is fulfilled, that in 2012 no more babies will be born, if the present decrease in births is maintained. No wheat and no one to eat it! Even Steven.

When a man 71 years old and who ought to know better goes off to marry a woman he has never seen, it seems to be another proof of the saying that the old fool is the biggest of all fools.

The Federal army of the '60s is again invading the South, but this time it is met with the glad hand of welcome instead of bayonets and bullets. The 47th annual encampment of the G. A. R. is on at Chattanooga and the city is in gala array. Fifty years has wrought a wonderful change. There was a time when the Yankee soldiers, as they were called, were dreaded in the South more than a pestilence. A reunited country now greets them and the South gives them the best in its shop.

It is the way of the world to lock the stable after the horse is stolen. Agreeable to the custom, the New Haven road having killed and maimed all the people necessary, has provided that hereafter no engineer shall have a passenger run till he has been a freight driver for a year, and for two years before taking a fast train. It seems that even firemen have been running passenger trains on that road.

With the mercury near the frost line, most of the straw hats have been laid away or given to the goat. Sunday was the coldest September day in years.

The galleries applauded Senator Ollie James' tariff speech so loudly that a change of the rules of the Senate giving the Vice-President power to suppress applause will result. This seems like an evidence of jealousy. How can anybody listen to Ollie and not get enthusiastic to the degree of bursting into applause?

A policeman attacked a reporter for the Lexington Herald for a piece in the paper and cursed him black and blue. He was suspended, but reinstated on an abject apology. He was in full uniform at the time of the attack, which was in a public eating place. A few months' lay-off or a final discharge would have suited the case better.

Safe Blowers Get $25.

Burglars blew open the large safe of Stratton & Bland at their office near the L. & A. depot some time Tuesday night. About $25 in change and bills were in the safe and some checks, but the only thing missing was the currency. The work is evidently that of experts. A hole was drilled in the safe at the edge of the door and was blown open by some powerful explosive. No clue to the guilty parties has been obtained. —Jessamine Journal.

Resolutions of Respect.

WHEREAS, On August 14, 1913, the insatiable archer, Death, claimed as its victim Mrs. Irvine Roberts, aged 72 years, beloved mother of our most worthy brother, Mr. Burton Roberts; and realizing the keen blow felt by those near and dear to her, and fully recognizing the deep sorrow that has come to him, our brother, through the demise of this good mother and splendid woman, whose earthly trials are over; therefore,

Be It Resolved, That we, the members of Normal City Lodge No. 162, Knights of Pythias, of the city of Richmond, Ky., recognizing the great fundamental truth that "A boy's best friend is his mother," therefore, it becomes our bounden duty as loyal and devoted Knights to tender sincere and heartfelt sympathy to our most worthy and esteemed member, Bro. Burton Roberts, who, in the realm of life has come to that great chasm which only the soul alone can explore—the chasm where lies broken the earthly ties of a Mother's Love and upon whose brink repose the prostrate form of a dutiful and loving son wrapped in the black habiliments of woe.

Resolved, That we do hereby deplore the sad and irreparable loss sustained by our beloved brother—the severance of the chain linked by rich and holy affection; and while the heavy drapery has darkened our brother's pathway and touched our hearts, may the exalted virtues of her for whom he mourns, be a guide and an inspiration through the coming years of life.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the Minutes of our Lodge, and a copy of same be sent to Brother Roberts.

Captain David A. Murphy.

Sunday's Cincinnati Post contained a splendid likeness of Captain David A. Murphy, the distinguished Union soldier, author and editor, of Oxford, Ohio. Captain Murphy was in the Queen City, Saturday, bound for Nashville, Tenn., where he goes to claim one of the fair daughters of a Southern Confederate family, who was on the losing side in the Civil War. The Captain, who is a widower and 71 years of age, says he feels ten years have been added to his life since he fell in love, although he has loved only by mail, becoming acquainted through a newspaper clipping with his sweetheart. After twelve letters had passed the old warrior was desperately in love, and he bought a tiny silk flag, attached a white ribbon thereto and sent it on to Nashville with the words: "I surrender." In reply she sent him a diagram of her wedding ring finger. Describing the qualifications, plans and specifications of a wife in one of his books he says: "She must have good health, cheerfulness, constancy, good manners and poetry, know how to write letters and be competent; must not be a dancer or a card player or a Sunday motor girl and must wear a pink ribbon in her hair." He says the Nashville girl, who is forty years of age, comes up to these specifications, and that while he has received many letters from girls who desired to marry, none of them had the literary quality and good sense of the letters of the fair Confederate.

Captain Murphy is well and favorably known to many of our citizens. He was located in our city for several months during the year 1905, when extensive improvements were being made in the magnificent Postoffice Building, he being Uncle Sam's superintendent of construction. Shortly after leaving here he purchased a newspaper plant in Oxford, Ohio, where he has since been success-

The California Railroad Commission has cited the Pullman Palace Company officials to appear before it and give reason if any they can for upper berths being put down when not occupied, why the answer so often is "too lowers left" when next morning discloses that there were. Why a passenger has to wait the pleasure of the porter before he can have his berth made up and why berths are so often sold to more than one person resulting in confusion and

A LARGE crowd gathered in the Court of Appeals room to hear Judge Lassing deliver his farewell address, but they went away sorrowful. He did not deliver it. Neither he nor Chief Justice Hobson mentioned the matter. His resignation was simply handed to the Governor, who has the appointment. Judge Lassing ridicules the proposition that he is out for the Newport postoffice, and says his business has grown so his entire attention is imperative. He was originally appointed to the bench more for political than other reasons, but he has made good and rendered some decisions that will make his name live in the legal world. It is not known whom the Governor will appoint, but it is hoped his selection will be a credit to the bench and of great benefit to the State.

CHARLES D. COLE has retired from the Barbourville Advocate and Circuit Clerk W. H. McDonald has mounted the tripod to whom up the old guard. His first effort is directed at the Louisville Herald whose claim that the Bull Moose caught in the neck in Maine because of a lack of funds. It wasn't that at all as the new editor claims, but a return to their senses of those who went off with the movement led by a few fellows who wanted to rule or ruin. We do not know whether that is the reason or not, but we do know that the so-called Progressive party is petering out so fast as to suggest the query. It is so soon to be done for what in the world was it begun for?

THEY seem to have the goods on Gov. Sulzer, of New York. A Wall Street stock broker testifies that he had large transactions with him, seeming to prove that it was campaign funds that he was using as he had no other means of obtaining so much money. At any rate it is said that Sulzer has proposed to the impeachment leaders that if they will drop proceedings he will get out of the way, but such an agreement had not been reached at last accounts. At any rate and in any event Sulzer is practically dead and damned and Wall Street scores another victim.

CONGRESSMAN HARVEY HELM is deemed that his friends shall be fully conversant with the currency bill, now before the House. That is, if they will read the Glass report and bill on the subject. The Climax is indebted to him for both. There are objectionable features in the bill, but they will doubtless be threshed out and eliminated. What is needed is a law that will divest Wall Street of its great power over the money of the country and a currency and credit elastic enough to prevent the recurring panics with their devastating results.

THE Lexington City Board of Education has issued an order for daily Bible reading and prayer in the public schools. Out of deference to the Catholics, this has not heretofore been done and even now the order is that no comment or explanation of the Word is to be made. We have always thought that the Bible should be used for reading in the schools that is in teaching reading. Its diction is superior, its grammar perfect and from it can be learned the most useful lessons for this life as well as for that which is to come.

THE L. & N. Railroad Company is always seeking new territory to conquer or rather to extend its already extensive holdings. The latest is the tentative purchase of the South & North Alabama road from Decatur to Montgomery upon which the stockholders will be asked to vote in October. President M. H. Smith is one of the greatest if not the greatest of railroad presidents and he never makes a move that does not benefit his road, which has done and is doing so much to develop the State.

AGREABLE to his promise in a letter to Mr. James M. Cole, one of the leading promoters of the Boone Way, Senator Bradley is preparing to introduce a bill calling for a survey and estimate of the cost of building a postroad over the old Wilderness road from Crab Orchard to Cumberland Gap and says he will push the matter to successful conclusion. Such a road would be of incalculable advantage to the section through which it would run, and benefit the State greatly.

IT is not often that a local option election is permitted to stand without contest, and that in Scott county will be no exception. The wets will contest, but will lose unless they can invent some better reasons than the ones given to sell the election aside. The desire to sell liquor seems to be the ruling passion of some men's lives, which is far from creditable to them.

CONGRESSMAN R. D. COLE, of Ohio, says he threatened to kick Mulhall out of his office when he made objectionable proposals to him. Charles McDowell doubts whether now that he has shunned him instead of walking like a fly into the spider net. The difference between him and the fly, though, is that he did not do so unconsciously, but with a desire to add to his duress.

He says he did it because he loved her, but there is proof that he married himself to her and murdered her when her secret could no longer be kept. Schmidt was for awhile in Louisville.

J. H. Birchfield of Quicksand, Breathitt county, is in a critical condition and may die at the Good Samaritan Hospital in Lexington as a result of a gunshot wound which he received Saturday night between Quicksand and Holly Creek. He was shot from the rear of a house occupied by Obe Roberts, alleged to be the operator of a "blind tiger."

The woman's suffrage question will be a live one before the next session of the Kentucky Legislature, according to Prof. J. W. Ireland, superintendent of city schools at Stanford, who has just returned home from a swing over the State, conducting county teachers' institutes. The Women's Equal Rights Association had representatives at every meeting, who sought to interest the teachers in the matter.

Slowly Cutting Number Of Saloons.

The license inspector at Lexington reports that 138 saloons took out licenses this time, or three less than in 1912. An effort is being made to reduce the number of saloons to 100 by providing that when a license expires
and is not renewed, it cannot be produced again. This has reduced the number ten in three years and still gives room for every 200 man, woman and child in the city.

Alleged Moonshiners.
W. T. Short, of this city, and
L. U. S. Marshall Mays made a

arrested Joseph Parks, Robert Baker & Ralph Sandlin, alleged to have been trafficking distilleries of unusual capacity, one being an 85-gallon copper.
Several hundred gallons of beer were seized out. John Gabbard, charged with bootlegging, was also arrested.

Dry'n a Bone.
Referring to the arrest of Clay Jones
for bringing whisky here from Lexington and the failure to confiscate it, because it was claimed by other parties,

mark: "They have a peculiar way of doing things in Richmond since Clarence Woods left there. Is Richmond any drier now?" You bet your life is, the driest on the map. It's a rattlesnake were to bite you. Ed Smith, of the Telegraph, says you would have to die, if whisky was the only cure.

SUICIDE.

R. D. Campbell, of Garrard, Found Dead at Glyndon.

Saturday night last R. D. Campbell, of Low-ll, Garrard county, registered at the Hotel Glyndon and was given a room. He stayed in it most of the time and had his meals sent to it. This morning, when nothing was heard from him for some time after the breakfast hour, Mr. G. G. Correll went to the room and found his body cold in death with two bottles of chloroform and one of carbolic acid lying around. The chloroform had a Lexington druggist's name on it. One was a 6 oz. bottle, the other a pint. The small bottle of it and the acid were empty. His death was evidently caused by the acid and Squire James D. Dykes, acting as Coroner, so held. The body was taken to Bennett & Higgins and prepared for burial by Mr. W. E. Richards.

Papers on the body showed that the deceased had been discharged from the Lexington Lunatic Asylum last Saturday. He had been sent there while crazy from dope. Mr. John S. Marks, who has known Campbell for years, says
he has been addicted to the drug habit for years and that some six or eight years ago he tried to kill himself with poison here, but was saved by heroic efforts. Mr. Campbell was about 40 years old and had one sister, Mrs. Mil-lison, who lives in Lexington. He had been in a fearful condition since he came to Richmond but there was no suspicion that he would kill himself. Nothing was left to indicate that he would take his life, but it is supposed that his intense desire for drugs led him to do so.

Several years ago while going from here to Lancaster a cinder got into Mr.
Campbell's eye which caused him to lose the sight of it. He carried an accident insurance but the company failed to settle. Messrs. Smith & Smith, of this city, and Hon. R. H. Tomlinson, of Lancaster, forced it to do so by court proceedings. Mr. Campbell got five or six thousand dollars which he proceeded to spend in a lavish way in Louisville
and Cincinnati, while filled with liquor.

For some time he claimed that he drank a half gallon of whisky every day.
When his money ran short he fell back on dope which made him a physical and mental wreck. Mr. Campbell's step father is said to be living in Irvine and he has been tried to come here.

Improving.
Mr. W. L. Crutcher, who lives on the Tates Creek pike, and who suffered paralysis of the left side of his face, is steadily improving. His articulation to believe that he will soon be all right.

Fine Sermon And a Large Crowd.

A large crowd greeted Dr. Quisenberry Sunday, both morning and night, the morning congregation being composed mostly of men. It has been a long time since Richmond has furnished a preacher such a select and thoughtful audience.

The service of 45 minutes was devoted to the church of yesterday and tomorrow, and was a masterly effort, which put many to thinking deeply.

At night Dr. Quisenberry discussed on David longing to drink from the old well by the gate of Bethlehem, while a prisoner, and the description of the well and the longings were so realistic
that no one was sleeping.

Next Sunday Dr. Quisenberry announced that at the morning hours he would discuss "Paying the Price" and at night
"Bought on the Installment Plan." He said that in opinion Prof. Stout, who teaches a Bible class in his church, has few equals as a teacher. His class grows, a significant fact.

More Stock Items.
At the Mt. Sterling court, 5,000 head points in Ohio. About 300, bought by Messrs. Craig, will be sent to Indiana.

Judge O'Rear sold his farm in Mon-

Lexington Theatre Beautiful.

The Ben All will open on September
23 and 24 with the New York Winter Garden's mammoth production, "The Passing Show of 1912." This production is a kaleidoscopic almanac in seven scenes of splendor, fun and music and comes with the original cast, including Trixie Friganza, Chas. Prince, Eugene
and Wilbur Howard, Clarence Harvey, Moon and Morris, Texas Guinan, Louise
Brunelle and 80 others.

As the name implies, "The Passing Show of 1912" is a review of the important events of the year 1912, and, needless to say everything is treated in a humorous manner. For example the herem scene from "Kismet" is reproduced almost in its entirety but this applies only to the actual scene. Scenes from
"Bought and Paid For," "Officer 999,"
"The Return of Peter Grimm," "The Quaker Girl," "Oliver Twist" and other successes are also handled in a like manner.

The Production by far the most enormous ever staged at the Winter Garden was produced by Ned Wynburn who has devised many original stage tricks.

Trixie Friganza, The Singing comedienne, who is one of the principal players of the Winter Garden Company presented "The Passing Show of 1912" is recognized as one of the foremost musical comedy artists of the American stage. Miss Friganza is a special feature in the numerous extravagant burlesques
on popular plays in the forthcoming revue.

The advance sale of seats will open Friday morning Sept. 19th at the box office in the theatre.

Mail orders should be accompanied by check or money order, and will be filled

seat in the house being reserved.

"The Passing Show of 1912" will be followed by "A Romance of Billygott Hill" a dramatization of Alice Hegan Rice's novel, for the remainder of the week with a matinee on Saturday.

Church Notes

Rev. B. E. Whitson, pastor of a Methodist church at Columbus, Ohio, drums
a congregation with a brass band playing
"Onward Christian Soldier."

The handsome church ever erected in Barren county was dedicated Sunday by Bishop A. W. Wilson, of this city, and is a beautiful and accomplished. The groom, who is the son of Mr.
and Mrs. Sam Ballard, is a popular
young man and holds a responsible position in the L. & A. shops.

Suppressed Their Friends.
Miss Sarah Jones and Mr. William Ballard, both of this city, were quietly married at Knoxville, Tenn., on September 3rd, and the news has just been made public. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Jones, of this city, and is attractive and accomplished. The groom, who is the son of Mr.
and Mrs. Sam Ballard, is a popular
young man and holds a responsible position in the L. & A. shops.

Circus of Today.
A change has come over the spirit of the showman's dreams since the days when Dan Rice exhibited his celebrated blind horse, Excelsior, with one ring and other things in proportion. To be sure "those were happy days," but the times and people have changed. Illustrating this, note the 9-Big Shows that the great showman, Sig. Sautelle, will present to you here in Richmond Tuesday, Sept. 23, at the Ball Park.

Read of their completeness and magnificence. Attend to the assertion that they occupy two trains in separate sections. That the nine largest performing Asianic elephants in the world are at the head of their leading features. Wild and tame animals compose the menagerie, from the kingly lion, tawny panther, spotted leopard, striped hyenas,
and other rare denizens of the jungle, everglades down to the monkeys that occupy the happy family cage.

Two hundred head of the handsomest horses that ever champed a bit in harness, or under saddle; blooded and with pedigrees; 100 performers, each in new feature; "class, all class, too. And, most important, everything about this great aggregation is strictly new, from the white tops to the "blues" of the interior. Everything new, but the bosses;
and they are in the re-incarnation zone,
Acts, features and ensembles—even the clowns' jokes are the latest, up-to-the-minute calibre and originality is at a premium.

ECZEMA THAT SPREADS.

How a Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Found Relief in Our Reliable Skin Remedy, Saxo Salve.

"I had been troubled with weeping eczema for months and used many preparations for skin troubles without relief. The first application of Saxo Salve allayed the dreadful itching immediately and after further use my skin trouble entirely disappeared. Saxo Salve was just what I needed."

—W. H. Gynn, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.
In eczema the little vesicles or pimples are filled with a fluid that burns and tortures the skin the moment they are torn open by scratching. This causes it to spread.

In such cases we can conscientiously recommend our new skin remedy, Saxo Salve, for its action on the skin in all forms of eczema and other distressing skin troubles is indeed marvelous.

If it does not help you we will return your money.

MANY SPLENDID FEATURES BOOKED.

The greatest agricultural, live stock and educational event in the South is the Kentucky State Fair, the eleventh annual celebration of which will be held in Louisville, September 15-20, next during the most beautiful and alluring season of the entire year.

At this exhibition will be shown products of the mine, the forest, the workshop and the factory, and the rarest examples of cultivated flowers, plants, art work, needle work, country school exhibits, a model dairy and many other entertaining and instructive features.

The new features introduced for the year's fair will include the Kentucky State Fair Futurity for saddle bred foals of 1913, an event equal in importance and dignity to the great racing futurities on the thoroughbred and trotting turf.

In addition to these there are three special saddle horse stakes, nomination to which closed April 15, with the most creditable list of entrants that have ever been recorded for a like event. Horse racing, always attractive and pleasing to the fair going public, will be on a higher scale than ever before. Recognizing the popularity of this sport as well as the value of the branch of horse breeding business it represents, the State Fair management has offered four $1,000 stakes for this year's racing. There will be four, ten other harness events and two or three running races every day. As the fair precedes the fall race at Douglas Park, some of the crack runners in training at the local tracks will doubtless compete in these races.

There will be free attractions too numerous to mention, but sufficient to give visitors to the Fair a constant round of novel and attractive entertainment.

BLUE-BLOODED CANINES

Will Shine at Kentucky State Fair—Show Will be Greatest Ever Held in the South.

Big dogs, little dogs, short dogs, tall dogs, dogs with hair, dogs smooth and fair, dogs grave and staid, dogs cute and frisky, dogs of a kind you pet, those whom to touch would be risky, dogs of royal degree, dogs who shine on a farm, dogs for millady's lap, dogs a hunter to charm, dogs from New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Memphis, Chicago, St. Louis, in fact, that a dog from each city of prominence will be on hand for the great Bench Show to be given at the Kentucky State Fair September 15-20, in Louisville, is the positive expectation of the Fair Management, as the classes for this exhibition alone number over 500, and the prizes offered in connection with the affair are sufficiently valuable and highly regarded among breeders and owners to attract the leading dog fanciers of the country.

The fact that the bench show at the Fair is held under the rulings of the American Kennel Club guarantees an unimpeachable standard and the presence of dogs of genuine merit only.

In addition to the premiums listed for the 600 classes there have been more than twenty special prizes offered by dog fanciers and their donations include both cash as well as magnificent cups and silver trophies.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional treatment. When this is done, the diseased condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube, which is the cause of the deafness, is entirely closed. Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. The cause of deafness is caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammation of the mucous membrane. We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness, (proved by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. All the scholars' hands flew up except one boy's.

"Why, Tommie," inquired the teacher, astonished, "wouldn't you like to be immensely rich?"

"No," he retorted, doggedly. "These days, just as soon as y' git 'nuff money so 'y' think y're on easy street, they haul y' up before an 'investigatin' committee."

Rules of Conjugal Bliss.

A Lawrenceburg, Pa., couple, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey L. Berger, married 50 years without a spat, given the following seven rules for marital happiness:

Give and take, but always make it a friendly domestic bout.

When angered, count ten and think of the patience of Job.

Always greet each other with a smile and a kind word in the morning, even if it is an effort.

Never listen to any gossip one about the other.

Divide the daily work as much as possible.

The wife must always be modest in her dress, avoiding extremes in fashion, such as tight skirts and the beek-aboo waists.

Husband and wife must keep their faith in the Bible, for the Holy Book is always the safest harbor of matrimony.

When asked if she would get married again if she could live her life over, Mrs. Berger replied: "Indeed I would, and I would marry the same man, too."

COULD SCARCELY WALK ABOUT

And For Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Housework.

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last time, was my worst."

I had dreadful nervous headaches and prostration, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my housework.

I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides and when one of those weak, sinking spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down, until it wore off.

I was certainly in a dreadful state of health, when I finally decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I firmly believe I would have died if I had not taken it.

After I began taking Cardui, I greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely.

I fattened up, and grew so stronger in three months, I felt like other person altogether."

Cardui is purely vegetable and gentle acting. Its ingredients have a mild, effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui makes for increased strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make sallow cheeks, fresh and rosy.

Cardui has helped more than a million weak women, during the past 50 years. It will surely do for you, what it has done for them. Try Cardui today.
